

Course: Entomology

Course Description: Entomology is the study of insects. Join us to learn the anatomy, life cycle, and eating habits of some insects.

Professor: Monson

Session: 9:10 and 10:50

Course: Huskies DIG Into Poetry

Course Description: Are you interested in starting your own collection of poetry? Then this is the course for you. Topics include exposure to different poets, poems, writing poetry, and sharing poems using the POET'S CHAIR. Please bring a favorite poem or book of poetry to the session and a notebook.

Professor: Wells

Session: 9:10 and 10:50

Course: Advertising

Course Description: Advertising isn't just for the rich and famous. Have you ever wanted to create an ad for a product? Well here is your chance. In this course you will learn about marketing and how to grab consumers' attention by creating an advertisement geared toward your age group. Sell, Sell, Sell! What do you want to sell? Here is your chance to create your own add.

Professor: Bassler

Session: 9:10 and 10:50

Course: Health and Wellness

Course Description: This course will outline what it takes to live a healthy life style. Learn about nutrition and exercise to live healthy.

Professor: Withers

Session: 9:10 and 10:50

Course: Nursing, concentration on school nursing

Course Description: Expectations for entering the field of nursing. Diversity of nursing field, what nurses do in nursing school, and demonstration of nursing responsibilities (i.e. listen to heart rate and cleaning and bandaging injuries)

Professor: Merris

Session: 10:50

Course: Probability: The mathematics of uncertainty

Course Description: Using new activities to take a closer look at probability.

Professor: Hutchins

Session: 9:10 and 10:50

Course: Poetry-Picture Writing

Course Description: Students will create a resistance painting about winter. They will then write a poem depicting the actions they see when it snows.

Professor: Dunn

Session: 9:10 and 10:50

Course: Discovering your roots; the importance of immigration in America 1880's - present

Course Description: In discovering your story you will be able to gain insight to American history. Students will be required to complete a short assignment prior to class.

Professor: Dugan

Session: 9:10 and 10:50

Course: Economics

Course Description: Students will learn money denomination amounts, trading, and combining of funds to purchase. Have you ever purchased something and were short on money? This course will help with understanding the economics of shopping.

Professor: Campbell

Session: 9:10 and 10:50

Course: Let's go green: Reduce, recycle, reuse

Course Description: This course will teach students the value of recycling. Students will learn what can be recycled and how to properly recycle. Sign up and learn the benefits of recycling.

Professor: Denis

Session: 9:10 and 10:50

Course: Theater – One act plays

Course Description: This course will bring students through the experience of participating in a one act play. Reading, emoting, and drama will converge to create powerful and humorous entertainment for the audience.

Professor: White

Session: 9:10 and 10:50

Course: Financial Analysis and Investing

Course Description: In today's tough financial times, you must make educated investment decisions. In this class, students will learn how to analyze companies, track performance, create a portfolio of stocks, and trade your stocks to make the most money.

Professor: Nieratko

Session: 9:10 and 10:50

Course: Psychology

Course Description: Introduction to psychology, theories (Erickson, Freud...) life stages, carousel of life.

Professor: Amorum

Session: 9:10

Course: Letter Writing

Course Description: This course will teach students to write a friendly letter and turn it into a card. Cards can be used to mail out to someone. Students will learn letter format and creative design of cards. Bring any creative ideas with you to this session.

Professor: Puccio

Session: 9:10 and 10:50